

DEANNA LUND, Don is devoting most of his energies to getting his career back into full swing. We'll keep you posted.

MAGGIE SULLIVAN (ex-Katie Corbin), who appeared on GH at the same time as Steve Carlson, was working diligently on her upcoming scenes, so we weren't able to learn much about where she's been. We'll have to do that in our next column, so stayed tuned.

LARA PARKER, who was magnificent on "Dark Shadows" in the late sixties, has been working in films and nighttime television for awhile, so we were a bit surprised to find her as the all-American heroine of "A New Day in Eden." She is still as beautiful as ever and working for perfection as always. Lara admitted between scenes, "It's very difficult doing a soap again after all these years, but this show is different than most soaps on the air today. I just keep trying to do the best work I can, all the time."

Lara is such a fine actress, she can take scenes which look like nothing on paper and bring them alive. All we can say is they must have offered her a deal she couldn't turn down, for she is instantly in demand elsewhere. The cast and crew stand by and watch intently whenever she is working — that's the best of kind of compliment.

As for "Eden" itself, the producers have built some beautiful sets at half the budget a regular daytime drama spends. The scripts are coming along nicely, with relevant issues and a touch of nudity — tastefully done — thrown in. Watch your cable listings for air dates.

TOM FUCCELLO, once Mark Elliott on "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing" and Paul Kendall on "One Life to Live," is now Dave Culver on semi-regular basis on "Dallas." "I play a U.S. Senator and this is my third year on the show. I did nine shows last year and seven, so far, this year. I had a great time in July when I worked on five shows on location. I really got to feel like a regular member of the company. While I'd love to be a regular and I wouldn't turn down the opportunity, should it arise, the way things are, my contract allows me to do other things." Perhaps we can change that with a whole lot of cards and letters directed at "Dallas." What do you say, gang?

Saw JOHN GIBSON at Chippendales, where he was discovered and brought into daytime as Cash on-¥&R. He is working to complete the documentary on his life, "Made in Hollywood." Quite an attraction for the ladies, John was recently visited by SHARON WYATT (Tiffany) and GAIL RAE CARLSON (Susan) of GH. Chippen-
